8 Booking meeting rooms

Rental of Meeting Rooms by Customers of EMZ Messeveranstaltungs UG

§ 1 Scope

These General Terms and Conditions apply to all contracts for the temporary rental of meeting rooms by EMZ Messeveranstaltungs UG (hereinafter referred to as the „Organizer“) to third parties (hereinafter referred to as the „Customer“), as well as for all related services and deliveries.

§ 2 Vertragsabschluss

A contract between the Organizer and the Customer is formed when the Organizer confirms the Customer's booking in writing (including by email). Offers made by the Organizer are non-binding. The Customer's booking constitutes a binding offer.

§ 3 Services, Prices, Payment

1. The Organizer rents meeting rooms to the Customer within the framework of the EMZ Messeveranstaltungs UG at the event venue of MOC.
2. The use of the rooms is limited to the provision of the space by the Organizer.
3. Technical and catering services must be commissioned directly by the Customer from MOC and will be invoiced separately by MOC to the Customer.
4. The Customer is obliged to pay the agreed rental price plus statutory VAT in a timely manner.

§ 4 Cancellation by the Customer

1. Cancellation is free of charge up to 30 days before the start of the Event.
2. The following fees apply for cancellations made within 30 days of the booked date:
 - 29 to 15 days before the start of the event:
50 % of the agreed rental price
 - 14 to 7 days before the start of the event:
75 % of the agreed rental price
 - 6 days or less before the start of the event:
100 % of the agreed rental price
3. Additionally, the cancellation conditions of MOC apply to separately commissioned services (e.g. catering, technical equipment), over which the Organizer has no control.

§ 5 Cancellation by the Organizer

The Organizer is entitled to withdraw from the contract for good cause, in particular if:

- force majeure or other circumstances beyond the Organizer's control make contract fulfillment impossible, the Customer is significantly in arrears with their obligations, the event pursues unlawful or unauthorized purposes, the premises are unavailable for reasons beyond the Organizer's control.

§ 6 Use, Liability, Damages

1. The Customer agrees to use the rooms solely for the agreed purpose.
2. The Customer is liable for any damage to rooms, furniture, or technical equipment caused by themselves, their employees, or guests.
3. The Organizer is liable only in cases of intent or gross negligence. Any further liability is excluded to the extent permitted by law.
4. Compliance with all relevant safety regulations (e.g., fire safety, emergency exits) is the responsibility of the Customer.

§ 7 Technical Equipment and Catering

1. Technical equipment and catering services must be booked directly by the Customer with MOC.
2. Billing for these services is handled exclusively by MOC. The Organizer is not a contracting party in this regard.
3. The use of the Customer's own technical equipment is only permitted with prior approval from MOC and must comply with their technical specifications.

§ 8 Priority for Numismata Exhibitors

The allocation of meeting rooms by the Organizer is primarily for official exhibitors of the EMZ Messeveranstaltungen UG.

Binding bookings by external customers who are not exhibitors are subject to availability and may be revoked by the Organizer if an exhibitor requires the room. In such cases, any payments already made will be fully refunded. Further claims are excluded.

§ 9 Final Provisions

1. Amendments, additions, and side agreements to these GTC must be made in writing
2. The law of the Federal Republic of Germany applies
3. Place of jurisdiction is München

9 Postings in the forums

Submissions to the Forums (Technical Forum, Media Forum, Investment Forum)

Participants who submit presentations or other content to any of the forums—specifically the Technical Forum, Media Forum, or Investment Forum—must ensure the legality and authorization of all submitted materials. With each submission, participants affirm that every component used, including but not limited to images, graphics, videos, audio recordings, and music, is either free from third-party rights or that all necessary usage rights have been properly obtained.

Furthermore, the individuals or entities making the submissions agree to fully indemnify EMZ Messeveranstaltungen Fair against any third-party claims that may arise in connection with the submitted content. This indemnification covers all possible disputes or claims related to the rights of the materials used in the submissions.

By submitting content, participants grant EMZ Messeveranstaltungen a non-exclusive, worldwide, and perpetual right to use the submitted materials in connection with the event, as well as for subsequent publication. This includes distribution and public access through various channels such as the official website, digital media, print publications, and social media platforms.

10 Delivery of goods, collection and parking facilities

For trade fair transport and deliveries, we recommend the logistics partner of the MOC, Schenker Deutschland AG. Further information is available online on the MOC website.

Deliveries and loading/unloading must always be carried out via the M.O.C. delivery zones. Exhibitors who are making deliveries with a vehicle weighing 3.5 tonnes or more must notify the event organisers.

Deliveries by car/ truck

Companies with their own stands

Fr. 06.03 08:00 a.m. – 07:00 p.m.

Other companies

Fr. 06.03 04:00 p.m. -07:00 p.m.

Removal by car/truck

Sun 08.03 from 03:15 p.m.

Parking

Parking spaces are available in the MOC underground car park.

Please do not leave any goods or valuables unattended in your vehicle.

Loading deposit

The use of the restricted loading zones is limited in time. A deposit must be paid when entering the site, which will be refunded when you leave the site. The deposit will be retained if the time limit is exceeded. The deposit can only be collected on leaving the premises; it cannot be paid out retrospectively. The amount of the deposit and the duration of use are subject to the regulations of the M.O.C.

11 Deliveries

Information on deliveries via DBSchenker Messelogistik can be found in the DBSchenker Messelogistik forms. These are available online on the M.O.C event website.

<https://messe-muenchen.de/de/services/servicepartner/schenker-deutschland-ag.html>

It is not possible to accept goods via the MOC. If consignments are delivered by courier or parcel service, they must be delivered directly to the stand. The MOC goods receiving department will not accept any consignments.

The organiser will not accept any consignments of goods, letters or other items intended for exhibitors or third parties. Exhibitors are advised not to leave any consignments of goods or other items unsecured in the hall.

12 Registration

Registration as an exhibitor takes place exclusively via the Organiser's online order system, which can be accessed at <https://numismat.de>

By registering, the exhibitor undertakes to participate in the event, provided that the registration is confirmed by the organizer.

By registering, the exhibitor undertakes to operate their stand during all days of the trade fair, to provide sufficient staff, and to ensure access for visitors.

Participants who dismantle their stand earlier than scheduled or cease trading may be subject to a contractual penalty of up to €1,000 and could be excluded from future trade fairs.

13 Admission

By registering for the event, the exhibitor acknowledges and accepts the conditions of participation as legally binding. The decision regarding admission to the trade fair is at the sole discretion of the organizer.

The organizer reserves the right to refuse admission without providing reasons, and there is no legal entitlement to admission. If the application is successful and admission is granted, confirmation will be provided in text form via e-mail.

Places will be allocated by the organizer according to availability, regardless of the date of registration.

A change of location is only possible with the consent of the organizer.

Each exhibitor must independently obtain information about the location and dimensions of their stand.

In addition to their duty to ensure public safety, exhibitors must comply with all official health protection regulations and guidelines (e.g. from the Bzga, BMG, WHO, RKI, federal government and state of Bavaria). If necessary, they must clearly and comprehensively communicate these measures.

The exhibitor is obliged to obtain all necessary approvals, permits and registrations for their event in good time in accordance with the applicable regulations. In doing so, they must ensure that all official requirements and legal provisions are met in a timely manner. The responsibility for the timely application for and receipt of these approvals lies exclusively with the exhibitor.

At the request of the organizer, the exhibitor must be able to provide proof of all obligations at least three weeks before the start of the event. Compliance with and implementation of the obligations imposed on the exhibitor shall be at the exhibitor's own expense. This means that all costs and expenses arising from official requirements, legal provisions and official guidelines in connection with the staging of the event shall be borne exclusively by the exhibitor. This includes, in particular, all measures necessary to fulfil the duty of care and to comply with the applicable health and safety regulations. The exhibitor is responsible for applying for all necessary approvals, permits and registrations in a timely manner and independently, and for bearing the associated costs. Financial participation or cost coverage by the organizer is excluded.

14 Mandatory registration

The Mandatory registration shall be deemed concluded upon registration of the stand in the online order system and written confirmation of acceptance by email from the organizer.

After conclusion of the contract, the organizer may make changes to the allocation of space. Any changes made must be reasonable for the exhibitor. If a change results in a lower participation fee, the difference will be refunded. Further claims are excluded.

If the exhibitor is unable to use their stand due to violations of laws, official regulations, or technical guidelines, they must still pay the full participation fee and all booked services.

Without the express prior consent of the organizer, exhibitors are not permitted to relocate their booth or swap it with another exhibitor. It is also prohibited to transfer or assign the booth, in whole or in part, to third parties.

15 Online booking

Additional terms and conditions apply to registration via the organizer's online ordering system:

When registering through the Online Order System under "Stand registration," the exhibitor makes a binding offer by selecting services and clicking "Submit." Exhibitors can review and correct errors before submission using "Edit" buttons. The Organizer confirms receipt by email and provides the General Terms and Conditions with the notification.

The participation agreement only comes into effect once the exhibitor has received confirmation of acceptance by email from the organizer.

Information on the processing of personal data when using the online ordering system can be found at <https://numismata.de/datenschutz/>.

There is no voluntary code of conduct in accordance with Art. 246c No. 5 EGBGB. There is no voluntary code of conduct in accordance with Art. 246c No. 5 EGBGB. This means that the organiser is not subject to any special voluntary code of conduct that goes beyond the legal requirements. The contractual relationship between the exhibitor and the organiser, as well as the use of the online ordering system, are therefore governed exclusively by the statutory provisions and the General Terms and Conditions (GTC) sent to the exhibitor as part of the registration process.

The remaining provisions of these Terms and Conditions shall also apply to online bookings, where applicable

16 Invoices and terms of payment

All invoice amounts issued by the organizer are to be transferred in EUR without deduction and free of charges to the specified account, quoting the invoice number. The specified payment dates are binding.

The exhibition space and exhibitor passes will only be provided after full payment of the invoice.

If the exhibitor defaults on payment and payment is still not received after the first reminder, the organizer reserves the right to allocate the assigned stand space to another party. In this case, the exhibitor shall have no claims, in particular for damages. The obligation to pay amounts already due remains unaffected by this.

If the exhibitor wishes to make a change to the invoice issued, for example, because the name, legal form, billing details, or address of the invoice recipient has changed, a processing fee of €50 per invoice change must be paid to the organizer.

An exception is made if the information in the original invoice was incorrect and the organizer is responsible for these errors. In this case, the processing fee does not apply.

17 Rescission

Cancellations are subject to the following cancellation fee scale:

1. Cancellations are free of charge until the registration deadline
2. Cancellations after the registration deadline are subject to the cancellation fees:
 - 50 % of the invoice amount after invoicing
 - 100 % of the invoice amount within 10 days before the start of the event

The organizer reserves the right to withdraw from the contract at any time if there is an objectively justified reason. Such a reason shall be deemed to exist in particular if the exhibitor violates the obligations set out in the conditions of participation.

18 Force majeure, cancellation of the event

The organizer is entitled to postpone, shorten, cancel, temporarily interrupt, partially close, or completely cancel the event in the event of an objectively justified exceptional situation—in particular to avert danger to life, limb, or significant property.

An objectively justified exceptional situation exists in particular if concrete factual circumstances justify the assumption that the scheduled implementation or continuation of the event is associated with considerable risks to public safety or order. This applies in particular if a competent authority, other government agency, or international institution prohibits the event, imposes restrictive measures within the meaning of Section 36 of the Administrative Procedure Act (VwVfG), or issues a public warning against holding the event. Such measures may take the form of time limits, conditions, or requirements that significantly impair or render impossible the scheduled execution of the event.

The organiser is entitled to postpone, shorten, extend or cancel the exhibition, or to temporarily or permanently vacate individual exhibition areas or stand spaces, if there is a compelling reason for which it is not responsible or in the event of force majeure.

Force majeure" refers to an event or circumstance that demonstrably prevents or significantly hinders a party from fulfilling its contractual obligations.

This is the case, if this impediment is beyond the reasonable control of the affected party, was not foreseeable at the time the contract was concluded, and its effects could not reasonably have been avoided or overcome.

Until proven otherwise, the following events shall be deemed to satisfy conditions of this paragraph:

- War (declared or undeclared), hostilities, invasion, acts of foreign enemies, large-scale military mobilisation
- Civil war, insurrection, rebellion, revolution, military or usurped power, uprising, acts of terrorism, sabotage, piracy
- Measures such as foreign exchange or trade restrictions, embargoes and sanctions
- Lawful or unlawful official actions, compliance with laws or government orders, expropriation, confiscation, requisition, nationalisation
- Epidemic outbreaks, severe natural disasters or other rare natural events.
- Explosions, fires, damage to equipment and prolonged failures of transport, communication or energy systems
- General disruptions to industrial peace, such as boycotts, strikes, lockouts, slowdowns or occupation of workplaces.

If the event is canceled in its entirety before the start of the trade fair for reasons for which the organizer is not responsible, the exhibitor remains obligated to pay a contribution toward costs amounting to 25% of the invoice amounts, and in the event of cancellation within six weeks before the planned start of the trade fair, the organizer may demand 50% of the stand rental fee plus any third-party costs already incurred from the exhibitor. From the time of cancellation, all contractual obligations and claims for damages or other contractual and legal remedies against the organizer shall lapse.

If the venue or time of the event is changed or the duration of the event is shortened before the event begins, the participation agreement shall automatically apply to the new venue or time period, unless the exhibitor objects in writing within two weeks of notification. In the event of an objection, a contribution towards costs amounting to 25% of the invoice amounts shall be payable in accordance with clause 18 of the conditions of participation.

If the event is cancelled prematurely, shortened, interrupted or partially closed after it has begun, or if it begins late, the exhibitor remains obliged to participate in the remaining part of the event and to pay the full invoice amounts. The organiser shall reimburse the exhibitor on a pro rata basis for those costs that are saved as a result of the cancellation or partial closure.

The organiser shall make responsible decisions, taking into account the interests of all exhibitors, visitors and safety authorities.

The organizer may cancel the event at its own discretion and considering the legitimate interests of the exhibitors if it is not economically feasible to hold the event or if the number of registrations does not guarantee an offer that meets expectations. Cancellation or postponement shall take place no later than one month before the start of the event. Cancellation shall render all mutual performance obligations void; there shall be no claims for reimbursement of costs already incurred or for damages. Payments already made for services not yet rendered shall be refunded by the organizer. In the event of complete or partial relocation or shortening, the contract shall be deemed to have been concluded for the changed duration, unless the exhibitor objects in writing within two weeks of notification. There shall be no reduction in price. All services shall be provided within the limits of available capacity.

19 List of Exhibitors

The organiser will compile a list of exhibitors, which will be published online and – taking into account the interests of the organiser and exhibitors – may also be published as a printed trade fair magazine. When deciding on the form of publication, particular consideration will be given to sustainability, cost-effectiveness, accessibility and ergonomics.

The directory will list the basic data provided by the exhibitor in the registration form (company name, industry, stand number). This entry is included in the rental price regardless of the publication medium. The publication of additional data is subject to a fee. Exhibitors will be informed in good time about additional entry options.

The organiser accepts no liability for entries that are incorrect, incomplete, not made or removed due to malware warnings. The exhibitor is responsible for the content of the entries and any resulting claims by third parties.

20 Stand construction and design

All exhibition stands must be constructed in accordance with the MOC technical guidelines. The guidelines are available in the online ordering system.

Decorative materials must comply with at least building material class B1 in accordance with DIN 4102 or at least class Cfl-s1 (flame retardant) in accordance with EN 13501-1. Appropriate proof must be kept available at the stand and must be presented at least four weeks before the start of construction. If this proof cannot be presented, the organizer or MOC is entitled to remove the decorations in question or have them removed at the exhibitor's expense, unless the exhibitor takes immediate remedial action.

Exhibitors may customize their rental booths. In doing so, they must ensure that the booth materials are neither soiled nor damaged. All decorations attached to walls or the booth system must be removed completely and without leaving any residue by the exhibitor. The exhibitor will be charged for any damaged or defaced booth components.

21 Advertising

Advertising materials may only be distributed at the exhibitor's own stand; distribution outside the stand is not permitted. Individual advertising opportunities can be found in the event's online shop after admission. Any unauthorized advertising will be removed by the organiser at the exhibitor's expense.

22 Trading activities at the event

Trade in goods is permitted exclusively at the exhibition stands, dealer tables, and in designated meeting rooms. Anyone violating this rule may be suspected of illegal trading and expelled from the fair by Estrel security. Trade in cultural goods, such as archaeological finds, is only allowed in compliance with all applicable international and national laws and only if proof of legal origin is provided for each item. Offering, exhibiting, or selling objects bearing swastikas or similar symbols is prohibited.

Exhibitors are required to conduct all transactions at the fair in full compliance with the relevant laws, both in substance and form (e.g., invoicing). It is forbidden to offer imitations or counterfeits as genuine in a misleading or fraudulent manner. If there are indications of non-compliance or illegal activities, the organiser may exclude the exhibitor from the fair with immediate effect. Claims for damages or reimbursement of stand rental fees against the organiser are excluded.

23 House keeping policy

The MOC's house rules and terms of use must be observed. Overnight stays in halls and outdoor areas are prohibited. Exhibitors must show consideration for other participants, observe good manners and not use the event for other purposes.

Employees of the organiser and the MOC may enter the exhibitor's stand at any time. The MOC exercises domiciliary rights alongside the organiser and may expel exhibitors and visitors from the exhibition grounds in the event of violations of the house rules.

24 Disclaimer

The organizer is not liable for damage to or loss of stand materials or goods. The exhibitor is responsible for supervising and securing the exhibition stand. No liability is accepted for personal injury, damage to property, theft, failure of technical equipment beyond the organizer's control or other external influences, except in cases of proven gross negligence on the part of the organizer.

The exhibitor shall be liable for all damage caused to third parties because of their participation, including damage to the exhibition building and its facilities.

25 Final conditions

All agreements, approvals and subsidiary agreements must be in writing to be valid; this also applies to amendments or waivers of this formal requirement. The place of performance and exclusive place of jurisdiction for all mutual obligations, including all payment obligations, is Munich. The law of the Federal Republic of Germany shall apply exclusively; the provisions of the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods (CISG) are excluded.

Personal data is processed by commissioned service providers within the scope of contract implementation.

Personal data is passed on to selected service providers for the purpose of fulfilling the contract. Processing is carried out in compliance with the applicable data protection regulations.
